

Dear Friends,

This Mother's Day it is important to remember that when women have a say in governance, the world becomes a better place. This is why GJC works to empower women and ensure their equal rights around the world.

A recent example of this is our work on gender and genocide. I just wrote a blog post on how crimes against women are often overlooked and go unpunished. GJC is demanding accountability and action in face of these crimes.

This Mother's Day, we wish that all women and girls around the world have full access to justice and power.

Join us as we fight to establish a global rule of law based on gender equality.

Thank you,
Akila
